INSIDE

A close-up photograph of a pool deck made of slate tiles. The tiles have a dark, mottled appearance with subtle ochre and copper veins, giving them a natural stone look.

SLATE

Bold stone with ochre and copper veins

PAGE 3

A photograph of a pool deck made of cement tiles. The tiles are a deep, rich blue with a slightly textured, weathered surface that reflects the surrounding environment.

CEMENT

Soft, weathered and calm

PAGE 7

A photograph of a pool deck made of marble tiles. The tiles feature a mix of green, blue, and sand-colored veins, creating a classic marble pattern.

MARBLE

Veined marble in green, blue and sand

PAGE 10

A photograph of a pool deck made of granite tiles. The tiles have a light, speckled appearance with a mix of subtle colors, giving them a refined and elegant look.

GRANITE

A fine speckle in eight colours

PAGE 13

A photograph of a pool deck featuring a mix of marble and granite tiles. The tiles are arranged in a chequerboard pattern, creating a visually striking and sophisticated design.
